

Purchase of telephone service should not be an invitation to uninvited solicitation for business purposes. If I desire to contact a commercial enterprise to discuss a potential business relationship, I should have the right to initiate the contact. I applaud the State Of Indians for increasing the privacy of my home by nearly eliminating telephone solicitations, such as the extremely rude person who called me Sunday afternoon from the Republican Party solicitations donation!